Saturday is the C.V. Firemen's Ball! See you there!

TICKETS WILL BE available at the door for the Fireman's Ball as well as from any of the firemen. Dancing will begin at nine, at the CV Golf and Country Club, to the music of Ed Armstrong. There are many door prizes to be given away and a gala evening is in store for dancers. Donation is one dollar per person.

Three Carmel women investigate race problems and how to help

"What can I do, personally, to help improve race relations?" is a question many Peninsulans are asking themselves.

Three Carmel women, Barbara Mearns, Marge Hirschkind and Elsa Wickham, set out to find the answer and to share it with other interested women.

They asked Mrs. Charlie Knight, special counselor for the Monterey School District, to speak to two groups of women involved, either as parents or teachers, in local nursery school programs. One group met in Pacific Grove, the other at Carmelo School in Carmel Valley.

Each group discussed a plan for volunteers to assist with the "Follow Through" program at Noche Buena School and other summer programs for underprivileged children. Mrs. Knight assured them that volunteers would be most welcome to read and play with the children; to help the youngsters become more aware of their learning experience during the morning sessions.

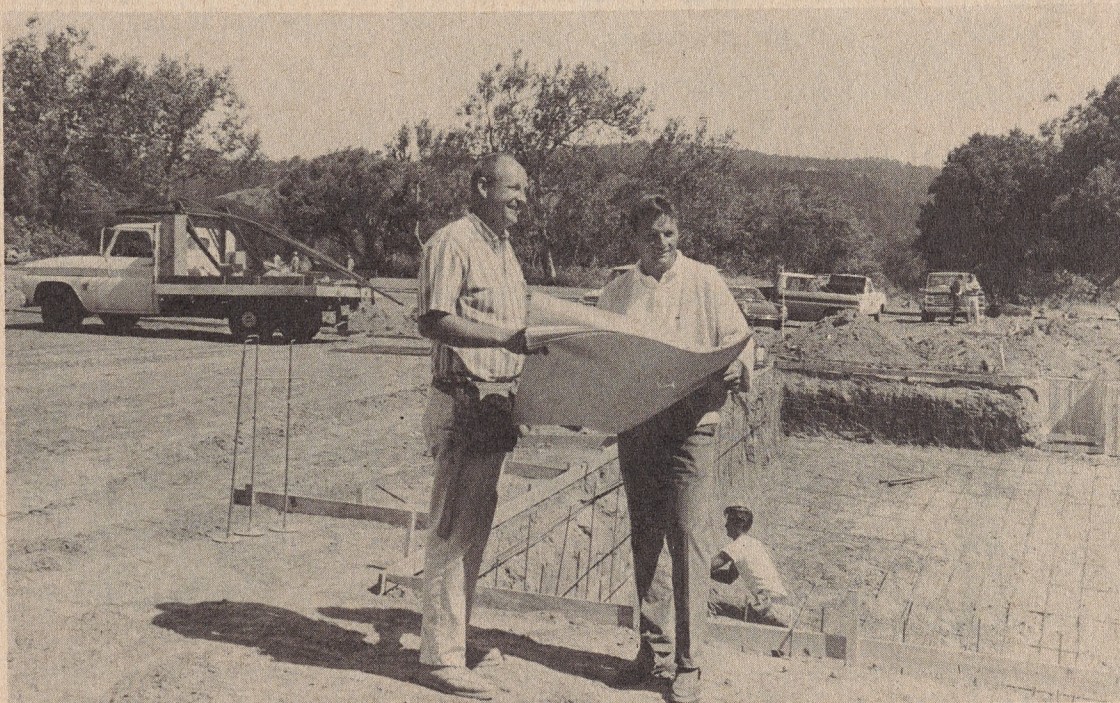

In the afternoon a volunteer may take a child on an outing to a park or beach or take him home to play with her own children. She may also have an opportunity to meet the child's parents and siblings for a family sharing experience.

Mrs. Mearns emphasized the need for family contacts.

Any number of volunteers can be useful to the children's summer programs, according to Mrs. Knight. "Operation Shoe String" is also being planned by Seaside ministers to be held at Seaside parks and churches, it was pointed out.

More information will be made available as plans progress and interested women and teenagers are invited to contact Mrs. Mearns at 624-8090.

PETER PAXTON (right) and Doug Leach, contractor, check the plans for the clubhouse of the new Carmel Valley Racquet Club which will be open for play in about 30 days. Courts, swimming pool and partial clubhouse facilities will be completed at that time. The club is located adjacent to the CV Golf and Country Club and access is either by Valley Greens Drive or Rancho San Carlos Road.

Construction under way for Carmel Valley Racquet Club

Ground was broken last week for the new Carmel Valley Racquet Club to be located on property near the condominium complex at the end of Valley Greens Drive in CV Golf and Country Club.

Peter V. Paxton, president of the club, announced that eight courts and the swimming pool would be ready in about 30 days. Limited clubhouse facilities would be completed shortly thereafter.

The Racquet Club is a private club which now numbers about 150 members. There are memberships available, according to Paxton, but they are on a basis of sponsorship.

The two-story clubhouse will feature men's and women's locker rooms and sauna baths, card room, snack bar, pro shop and upstairs sundeck.

A swimming teacher as well as several top tennis pros will be named shortly, Paxton said. Individual, group and junior tennis lessons will be offered.

The first general membership meeting will be held at 6 p.m. on Friday to elect executive, social and membership committees.

PlanCom approves new 3 course golf complex in lower Valley

Rancho Canada Golf Club, which includes two 18 hole golf courses, was approved last week for Carmel Valley by the Planning Commission.

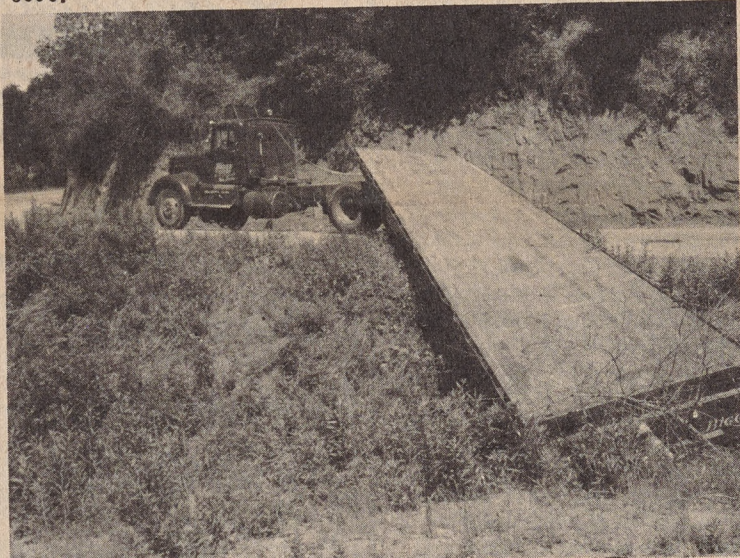

Nick D. Lombardo, of Monterey, and his brother-in-law, Gordon Knott of Fresno, also plan a nine hole, par three course in addition to the 7,115 and 6,205 yard courses.

The project will be developed on 226 acres of land leased from Mrs. Mary Hatton, Mrs. Louise Hatton and Arthur Oppenheimer, south and east of Carmel Middle School and extending up to Hacienda Carmel.

At the May 29 PlanCom meeting, Lombardo, who is manager and pro at Del Monte Golf Course, agreed to set aside rights of way for a possible extension of Rio Road and another possible future road, running along the south bank of Carmel River to Martin Canyon.

A request by the Road Dept. for a dedication for future widening of Carmel Valley Road was denied since planlines have not been approved.

In addition to the golf courses, the complex will eventually include four tennis courts, clubhouse, swimming pool, eating facilities and pro shop.

IT IS SURPRISING that there have been no mishaps before on the winding, narrow Cachagua Road, as mammoth tandem trailer trucks, gigantic cranes, and heavy laden rock carriers carried equipment and materials to the COMSAT site at the Jamesburg Earth Station. On Friday, however, one trailer didn't quite make the hairpin curve and it arrived about four hours late after being hauled out with a hydraulic rig.

is represented by works of 16 photographers in the current exhibit at Carmel Photography Center, Sunset Center. (See pages 8-9 for more)

COMSAT director pleased to be new CV resident

John Scroggs, director of the COMSAT Earth Station at Jamesburg, is tremendously pleased to have been sent to this location. He and his wife, Louise are both from the west coast (Washington is their native state), and they were familiar with this area since he took landing operations training in Monterey Bay, back in 1940 when the base was called Camp Ord.

JOHN SCROGGS

A 1939 West Point graduate, Scroggs has been in communications work with the Army Signal Corps ever since. He retired in 1966 and has been associated with COMSAT since then.

Right now he and Louise are anxiously awaiting completion of the new house they are building east of the Village in Los Tulares, Jack Rauber's subdivision. At home with them will be their 14-year-old son Tommy. They have a daughter, Ginny who recently was married to an architect and is living in Columbus, South Carolina. Their other son, John is in his senior year at the University of Washington in Seattle.

VARIED CAREER

During the course of his career in the Army, Scroggs has been stationed at a wide variety of locations. He was in Hawaii at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack and remained there for a year after Louise was evacuated. After this he returned to West Point as Signal Officer and senior instructor in communications. After the war, he attended University of Illinois and received his Master's in electrical engineering.

After that, they were at the Sandia Atomic Weapons base in Albuquerque, N.M., for four years and from there to the Senior Tactical School at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. The moving continued with a year in Korea in command of a signal battalion, then to Palo Alto for two and a half years as liaison officer with the Electronic Defense Lab operated by Sylvania.

After duty in Washington, D.C., Scroggs spent a year at SHAPE headquarters outside of Paris and three in Heidelberg, Germany, commanding a Signal Brigade. In 1964, he was made assistant manager of the operations of National Communications System which coordinated all armed forces and government bodies under one management at the national level.

From this he retired and went into the world-wide communications business of COMSAT, which is a strictly private business, although it is regulated by the Federal Communications Commission.

After the busy whirlwind of a long career in the Army, it is easy to understand why Scroggs is delighted to become a Valley resident and enjoy the quiet beauty which he sees from each window of his new home.

That doesn't mean, however, that he won't be busy. It is quite a job to train new people and get a new earth station going. The station will be on the job 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and because of the complexity of the operation, he has to be in constant touch. This particular station, due to be completed in late November, is a tremendously important focal point for commercial communications, handling more from across the Pacific than all others.

The three stations now in operation in Hawaii, Andover, Me., and Brewster Flat, Wash., will soon be joined by the Jamesburg station, one in Puerto Rico and another in West Virginia. A second antenna, similar to the big dish erected here last week, is under construction at the Hawaii site.

"Eventually there will be a world-wide network of similar stations," Scroggs said. There are now two in Japan and a third being built. Either completed or under construction is one each in the Philippines, Thailand, Australia, the Republic of China and Hong Kong. Eventually COMSAT stations are expected in Singapore, Korea, New Zealand and Vietnam.

It is easy to see that John Scroggs is tremendously excited by his new position at the Jamesburg Earth Station and his new home in Carmel Valley. Most Valleyites, however, will know him as a warm and friendly new resident, not in the role of a very busy communications director.

EDITORIAL

"Carmel Valley is the greatest place... I wouldn't want to live anywhere else... once you've lived here you're spoiled for town living... I thought I'd miss the ocean, but this is better... I hope it never changes..."

These were comments heard recently from a variety of Valley converts...

Aren't we lucky?

We do have something special in Carmel Valley and it can make one feel kind of smug every now and then because YOU have the good fortune to live here.

Carmel Valley didn't just happen, though. It started out with a lot of individualists and fortunately it has continued that way. And it has had a lot of people who are not afraid to stand up and talk for or against things that they feel will be a detriment to the Valley.

People take a pride, generally, in their homes, but they don't sacrifice the joy of living just to put forth a manicured lawn.

One comment that newcomers reiterate is that the people who live here are friendly and make them feel welcome. This is not true in many communities.

In Carmel Valley it is more whether you think and have something to say, than who you are, what you do or how much you have.

Most of us live here purely because we LIKE it... so it behooves us all to keep on our toes to keep it this way... or there won't be any reason to live here any more.

PERSPECTIVE

TO THE EDITOR

Grass fires

Editor, The Outlook:

Your May 29th issue and the report and comments on "grass fires" is most opportune.

Ordinarily I am not an alarmist but the factors outlined in your report are a statement of facts — low precipitation this season plus the residual mat left from last season's luxuriant growth all spell potential trouble.

Add to this the strong winds funneling up the Valley from 10 a.m. to nightfall plus standing dry grass and you have a potential blast furnace.

No matter where you look — in the center of town, the airstrip and its approaches, along the main highway — neglected weeds and grass drying out with the arrival of hot weather. Why residents and landowners can be so oblivious of the threat to their neighbor's property is beyond comprehension.

Even if equal if not more importance are the homes located in or on the ridges and canyons, surrounded by native growth — oak, sage, buckbrush, etc. These trees and shrubs that are able to exist under these dry conditions are high in oils and waxes, otherwise they would not be able to exist. The oils and waxes are nature's way of cutting down on transpiration (water throw-off).

Take these oil-wax laden trees and shrubs — coupled with the air updraft and you have a potential worse than dynamite. Once a canyon fire starts you have a monster that is almost impossible to stop. Good as our volunteer Fire Department is it would be signing their death warrants to send them into a canyon to fight a fire that literally explodes when it hits an oak or sage brush. So those of you living in the ridge and canyon areas clear back the undergrowth so that in event of a fire our department can at least protect your home.

Poetry of our times

Editor, The Outlook:

As further proof of the concern that young people of today have for the problems that face the country, may I quote a poem written by my son, Edward F. Hogan Jr., a student at Bellarmine Prep School in San Jose. Ed is 17 years old and will be a senior next year.

Recently he has written a number of pieces that are very indicative of the young person's awareness of today's unsolved or misunderstood situations.

Mrs. Jeanette Hogan
Carmel

For 200 years he has worked our land,
Been suppressed and made ignorant.
For 200 years we've ignored him and spurned him.
He's the black man and we call him "nigger."
And when he strains his back against the world
And leaves the shackles of ignorance behind;
We kick and spit and swear at him
'cause he's black and we call him nigger.

And if we make him desperate, and he breaks a law;
We shout and point out what color his skin is,
And his tears become ours of joy when we kill him
'cause he's black and we call him nigger.

We wonder why there are storm warnings and rumblings
We look with puzzled faces and ask "What does he want?"
We beat him and jail him and shoot him in the back,
But that's okay, he's black and just a nigger.

But he is learning fast the ways of this world,
And is becoming again an able man who can hold a place;
But still we laugh and ignore his intelligent pleas
'cause he's black and a lousy dirty nigger.

For 200 years he has crawled and clawed
Up a ladder to the rights he had stolen.
He's not there yet, but I'm willing to bet
He'll make it 'cause he's black and we call him nigger.

IN SHORT

DOYT EARLY reports an unusual feature of a recent Sierra Club hike "was the almost incredible capture of two rattlesnakes by David Risdon, a young naturalist with a bent toward herpetology (this digression from Sierra Club policy of 'taking only photographs...' was justified by the fact that the snakes were found on private property). In addition, he constantly pointed out things unnoticed by our less observant eyes — minuscule butterflies, amphibians, a pair of garter snakes mating in a bush.

"Due to variations of slopes, exposure, and drainage, flowers were ripening seeds in one area and still in bud in others. Dozens of species of wildflowers were recorded. Fresh green leaves on the white oaks in open meadows contrasted with deep shadows of redwoods and the lush green of alders and cottonwoods along Garzas Creek."

RALPHE CARTER'S Appaloosa gelding "Ironside" won grand champion in the four and over gelding class at the Golden State Appaloosa show last week at the San Jose Fairgrounds. On top of that his "Fancyfoot Sun-up" came in as reserve grand champion. 1000 head of horses were entered in the show, sponsored by the Mission Trail Appaloosa Association.

The Rhyming Philosopher

There's a tingle in the dawning
When you wake up in the morning
And the first gray streaks come banishing your sleep.
Then like all the good physiquers
You get dressed in shorts and sneakers
And go jogging down the highway with the sheep.

Do you want to be a martyr
In the marts of sale and barter
With your energy all drained away and spent?
You must vitalize your muscle
To be fit for trade and bustle--
It's the healthy chap who's suave and confident!

Do not envy lusty loggers,
Join the club of gentle joggers,
It's the latest fad to shed your excess fat.
Jog for health and poise and power
Then refresh with icy shower:
You'll be chomping at the bit to go to bat!

There's a chip lodged on your shoulder
Won't admit you're growing older,
So you have to prove you're still a youth, of course.
Chase the ball, go scuba diving
Prove you're lucky by surviving:
Jogging's fine -- but do it sitting on a horse!

Awards made to Carmel High journalism students

The spotlight was on "The Sandpiper," Carmel High School's outstanding newspaper, and on its staff and advisor Tuesday night at the second annual Perry Newberry Press Awards' banquet at Carmel Valley Inn.

Honored was Wally LeValley, journalism instructor who has steered the "Sandpiper" during the last three years to top "All American" ratings in national competition and who, on his own volition, is leaving the advisorship of the paper to teach a broad humanities course.

A large cake, provided by photographer George T.C. Smith, was presented LeValley by the editors of the Sandpiper for the two semesters, Chris Olsen and Chelsea Miller.

Robin Stevens, a last year's Sandpiper editor, now an English major at Monterey Peninsula College, presented LeValley with a small bronze plaque. "Mr. LeValley," she said, "was the first teacher I had who taught me something besides just what he had to. He has an energetic quality which his successor will find hard to replace."

Presiding at the banquet was Mrs. Mari Dudley, local writer and mother of several Carmel High students. She organized the event to provide recognition for the young journalists.

Four Perry Newberry Press awards were made to authors of the best of different kinds of newspaper writing. Besides receiving small individual plaques, their names are engraved on a large bronze plaque which rests permanently in the school trophy case.

The best-editorial award went to Bob Wolovsky for his "March to the Great Society Orchestra" editorial. Judging the editorials was Stan Cloud, former editor of "The Advocate," now a Time magazine staff writer in San Francisco. Because he was unable to be present for the banquet, Mrs. Dudley read a letter from him, which emphasized how difficult it is to make a selection from a school paper with so much excellent and lively material.

Editor Bill Wells of The Carmel Pine Cone picked a girl, Connie Hood, as the best sports writer. "She either does a lot of research or she has a brother or boy friend who is an expert on all sports," Wells said with a smile as he complimented her knowledgeable sports' writing.

Mrs. Dudley presented Adrian Arima the "best feature story" award for his satire, "Mortimer Slobber Fights the Establishment."

Bill Norton of The Outlook presented Cathy McFann, a sophomore, with the award for the best news story. Headlined "Negroes Present CHS with the Other America," it told about a visit to Carmel High of several Negroes from Seaside High.

Parents of Sandpiper staff members attended and special guests were Principal Arthur Gumbrell and Dr. Harris Taylor, district superintendent, and Mrs. Taylor.

LEISURE TIMES

Spring shows by Children's classes at Circle Theatre

The annual spring performances of the Community Theatre Children's Classes will be presented at the Circle Theatre on Saturday, June 8, and Sunday, June 9.

The performances, under the direction of Marcia Gambrell Hovick, are free to the public and run the gamut from the gaiety of an "undressed" Emperor through the villainous Rumpelstiltskin, to the somber realism of the French Revolution.

Participating in the 3rd and 4th grade class original version of the classic Chinese study in conceit, "The Emperor's New Clothes," will be Cal Bordonaro, Jess Bragg, Jim Burdick, Darwin Drake, Tom Hartman, Janet Luce, Nancy Scanlon, Marguerite Meyer, Elizabeth Moore, John Mudd, David Shefik, Sheila Tonkin, Erica Torrell, Keith Vandivere, Kim Whitney, Alex Wilsdon, Jacqueline Ward, Roxanne Walker, and Amy Gerjuoy.

They will appear June 8 at 10:30 a.m. and June 9 at 1 p.m.

RUMPELSTILTSKIN

Two casts of 5th and 6th graders will present alternating performances of the beloved fairy tale "Rumpelstiltskin," including Andrea Bialek, Lauren Cottrell, Sarah Drake, Chris Erdle, Jeff Luce, Calvin Meyers, Patience Prine, Mary Moore, Riza Shefik, Julie Spaulding, Kathy Terman, Brad Winslow, Rima Mazzeo, Ralph Hall, Lois Kale, Wendy Peckham, John Powell, Kathy Burgess, Suzanne Wright and Peggy Light. They perform Saturday, June 8 at 11:30 and June 9 at 2:30 p.m.

THE GREAT FEAR

When terrible events are under way, people sometimes believe everything they hear, and do terrible things themselves. The 6th, 7th and 8th grade class has spent the year studying the beginnings of the French Revolution, and will present an original drama called "The Great Fear" — an evening in the summer of 1789.

It is their first experience with ensemble realism, as they bring to life the social levels of the prototype of all revolutions. Included in the cast are Jon Bedow, Guy Curtis, Allison Faul, Gwyneth Hovick, Naomi Marcus, Janet Merchant, Ray Luce, John Mearns, Liz McGinley, Jenny Scanlon, Peri Shefik, Terry Spear, Ann Rogers, Curtis Winslow, Cathy Thaler, David O'Brien, John O'Brien, D'Arcy Fallon, Chris Fry, Mark McCornack, Sam Mudd, Eric Kramer, and Guy Powell.

"The Great Fear" will perform Saturday, June 8 at 1 p.m. and Sunday, June 9 at 4:30 p.m.

Town House Exhibit

Chinese impressionist paintings by Miss Mabel Keihl will be on exhibit at the Carmel Foundation Town House during the month of June.

A tea will be served on Thursday, June 6 from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Town House to which the public is invited.

"Street Car Named Desire" to be next at Forest Theatre

Open readings for the next production of Welles' Humanist Educational Theatre, Tennessee Williams' "A Streetcar Named Desire," will be held next Sunday at 1:30 and 7:30 p.m. and Monday at Forest Theatre-in-the-Ground, Carmel.

Dr. Ig Heniford of Carmel will direct the famous play, Stephen Welles, managing director of the theatre, announced.

"Feiffer and Folks!" continues its run for Welles' Theatre through June, closing July 13.

"Streetcar" will go into rehearsal the week after tryouts, and is scheduled to open Friday night, July 26.

All parts are open to interested Peninsula actors for "Streetcar," with the exception of Stanley which Mr. Welles is preparing. Interested performers can simply come to the readings at the theatre or may call 64-7580 for an appointment.

Dr. Heniford, who will direct "Streetcar," has been a Carmel resident for nearly 10 years. He is well known to Peninsula theatre-goers from his part work at Monterey Peninsula College and at the Studio and Circle Theatres.

Currently head of the drama and speech departments at Salinas' North High School, he earned his PhD in theatre arts at Stanford University.

Jaxon Studios move

Jaxon Art Studios, Carmel's oldest established public art gallery of a single artist, has recently moved to elegant new quarters on the second level of El Prado de Su Vecino (the court of your neighbor).

It is located on Dolores St. between 5th and 6th, and is open any day of the week between 10 a.m. and p.m.

Jaxon is noted for his bold use of color and unrestricted range of subject matter. The present collection does include scenes and seascapes indigenous to the area.

Two Carmel students win scholarships

Two Carmel High School students were among 24 high school students to receive college scholarships awarded in a nation-wide competition sponsored by the American Water Works Foundation. It is most unusual to have two winners from the same high school, since the competition comes from a composite population of over 4 1/2 million people in the 19-state service areas of the Water Works system. Adrian Arima and Don Harrison, both from Carmel, went through a severe competition based on College Entrance Examination Board tests, administered by the Educational Testing Service in Princeton, N.J.

TOP — David Fiscus, Division manager of the California-American Water Co., congratulates Carmel High senior Don Harrison on his outstanding achievement in the American Water Works scholarship competition. His mother, Mrs. Don Harrison, and Carmel High principal Arthur Gumbrell watch proudly.

BOTTOM — Adrian Arima (second left), son of Dr. and Mrs. James Arima (standing with him) receives his scholarship award from Mr. Fiscus. Both Don and Adrian are seniors at Carmel High School and were among 12 Water Company customers' children who received the awards in a nation-wide competition involving some 4 1/2 million persons.

Of the 24 scholarships, 12 were awarded to children of company employees, so this makes the honor to Carmel High School even greater, with Adrian and Don winning two of the remaining 12, awarded to college bound children of customers.

Adrian, who will graduate from Carmel High School in June, plans to attend Stanford, where he will major in mathematics. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. James K. Arima.

Don also will graduate from Carmel High in June and plans to attend Reed College, where he will major in biology or physics. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Harrison, Jr.

The scholarship awards were announced by W.J. Hays, president of Investor-owned California-American Water Co., which is a subsidiary of the American Water Works Company System.

Local residents win graduate degrees

The Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies awarded degrees to 31 graduates at a commencement ceremony May 25.

Three Carmel Valley residents received master's degrees in French. They were Irene Juliette Havelka from England; Demiter-Mitko Nedeff from Bulgaria and Michel P. Joyet from Switzerland.

Two Carmel graduates were Lada Kratky of Czechoslovakia who earned a bachelor's degree in Spanish and Tatyana Treutle, Russia, a master's in Russian.

OUTLOOK ON CARMEL

"Benvenuto" party for Nelo Drizari

Glenn and Alice Powell, creative artist and teacher, respectively, gave a champagne party Friday evening at their Carmel home. It was "Benvenuto di Roma, Nelo!" for author Nelo Drizari, who recently returned from Rome where he attended solemn ceremonies at the Vatican honoring Scanderbeg, the subject of his latest biographical book.

Among the invited guests at the Powell party were Georges Henri Picard, chairman of the French Department, Defense Language Institute, and Mrs. Picard; Col. and Mrs. Louis T. Lazzarini, Maj. and Mrs. Owen C. Baker, Mrs. Thomas G. Tousey, Miss Joan Edmonds, Warren Fishburn, Miss Sally McPhail, Gary K. Lothe, and Mr. and Mrs. David Hinkley.

In Rome, at St. Peter's Basilica, Nelo Drizari attended a solemn mass in memory of Scanderbeg, the 15th Century Albanian knight who saved Europe from being overrun by the Ottoman Empire. For the first time in the history of St. Peter's, the mass was conducted in the Albanian language.

The following morning, Pope Paul VI, flanked by Cardinal Furstenburg and Cardinal Agagianian, granted an audience to a small group of Americans of Albanian origin, among whom was the Carmel biographer. Then the Pontiff read a special message from the Basilica throne in which he highly eulogized Scanderbeg for his heroic stand against the Ottoman armies of Sultan Murad II and Sultan Mehmed II, in 1453.

The $25 fee includes the cost of all basic materials. Pre-registration is required. Arrangements may be made by telephoning All Saints' School, 624-9171.

The school is situated four miles east of Highway 1, on the Carmel Valley Road.

ASCU STUDIO 1968

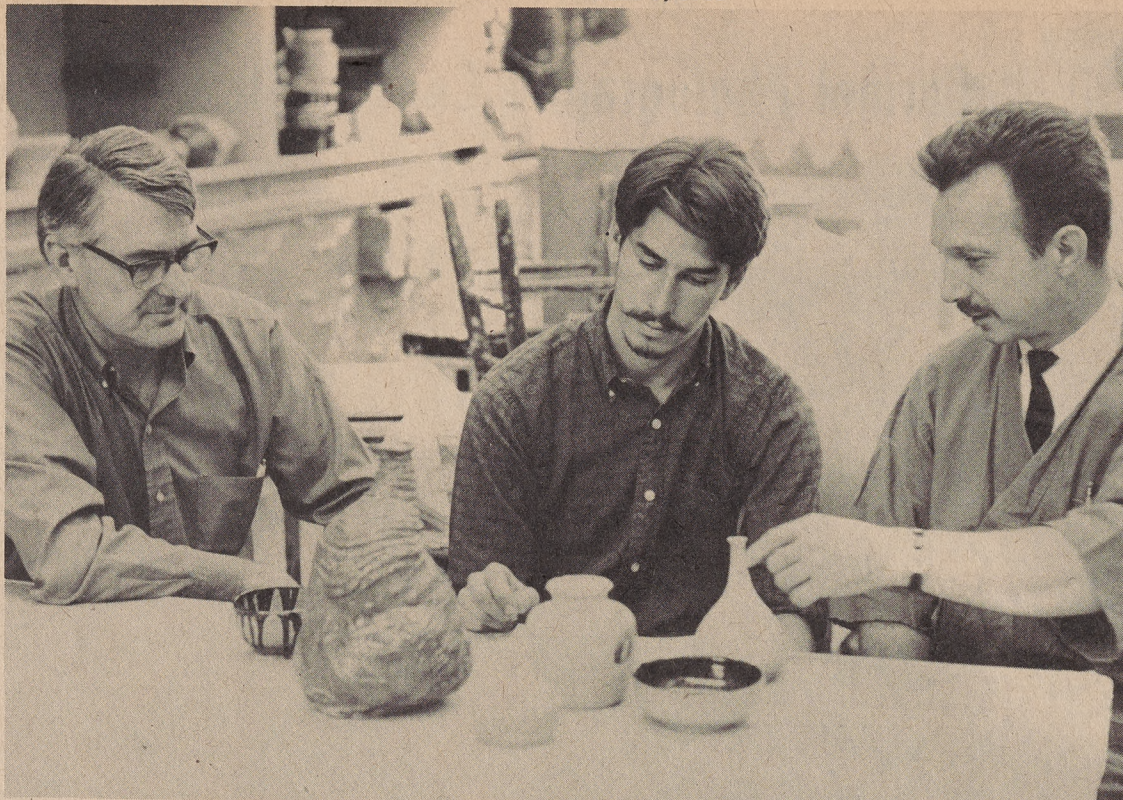

By definition, the Associated Students' University of California Studio is a workshop for students, faculty and employees—but we care little about definitions. It stands (in the Student Union building) inconceivably far from the academia with which we are surrounded, namely the rest of the Berkeley campus and the rigid administrative-oriented American educational system. For some, then, it may be the Studio exists as an alternative to the above. Of those represented hereinafter, I would guess most would stand in that category. . . .

I would only point out that the photographic population at the Studio—represented here—runs across a considerable range of experience, and includes undergraduate juniors through Ph.D. candidates, the staff, and some who are no longer on the campus but stop by once a week to see what is happening and to show us what has happened. But it is a tough bunch indeed, for those who decide to become serious about photography at the Studio survive the most severe criticisms and evaluations. Berkeley, April 1968

An Adult Community in a Unique Setting

Celebrate an old fashioned Fourth at LL barbecue

Valley residents are invited to plan a real old fashioned Fourth of July complete with a ball game and a steak barbecue sponsored by the Carmel Valley Little League. Team members have been issued tickets and are competing for a prize to the Major League player who sells the most and an award to the Farm Team member who makes the most sales.

Donations for the one fund-raising event for the Little Leaguers are $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children 12 and under.

The game, beginning at 1 p.m., between the All Stars and the officials and managers will be followed by the barbecue. Serving hours are between 2 and 7.

Proceeds will be used toward the purchase of a small tractor (a problem that could be solved by anyone willing to donate the use of a mower for the field).

Also on the list of needed items are 100 yards of topsoil, two Farm Team coaches (one for the Pirates and one for the Indians) and two sponsors.

Featuring the favorite recipes of local cooks.

The Social Action Group of St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church has come out with "It's a Small World," a book of foreign recipes to sell for 75 cents and swell the fund for Camp Amigos, an inter-racial day camp to be held at Bishop Kip School this summer.

If you were lucky enough to have attended the foreign food tasting party at the church a few Sundays ago you will surely want a copy so you can reproduce some of the marvelous things you tasted there. If you didn't attend, you should find out what you missed and also have the satisfaction in helping out a fine cause.

You may buy a copy at the church or arrange to get one by phoning Social Action Chairman Gloria Stewart at 624-5845.

We've chosen three recipes at random to give you an idea of this little book's excellence. Other recipe contributions are from:

Babs Gawain, Thelma Eagling, Mary Wilsey, Marilyn Sanders, Rosetta Smith, Dede White, Hannah Davidson, Irene Ringheim, Betty Murphy, Ginger Brock, Harriett Hufford, Barbara Blevens, Betty Hansen, Jacklyn Boyd, Frances Clingman, Sally Terman, Marcia Lockwood, Helen Miller, Kathryn Walker, Rita Gray, Marion Chilson, Anna Harlander, Mary Branco, Jean Kanevsky.

Lyde Mink, Kay Coleman, Marge Bennett, Joanne Albert, Natalie Service, Elaine Johnson, Effie Dryden, Melinda Douglas, Marilyn Sanders, Tracy Gould, Jean Thomas, Joyce Quinto, Amanda Richmond, Dian Musick, Carlyle Mothersill, Ruth Stowers, Martha Palmer, Bernice Ferrester and Mr. Walter Schoeder and Mr. Robert von Pagenhardt.

A great line-up of cooks!

FRENCH CHOCOLATE POUNDCAKE

"Remember the French frown on substitutes so it is suggested very firmly that the recipe be followed exactly," says Marge Wenzlik in the introduction to her contribution. And that means of course all butter instead of a humbler shortening.

2 cubes butter
1 cup sugar
1-1/3 cups sifted flour

1/2 lb. bar Ghirardelli sweet chocolate
5 eggs

Mix with a wooden spoon. Melt chocolate bar in a double boiler. Cream butter and sugar till smooth. Add eggs one at a time. Cream together and add chocolate. Blend in flour till just mixed. Bake in a small bread pan at 350 for 35 minutes. Cool. Keep in the refrigerator.

MARGE WENZLIK

FRUITED POT ROAST (Old English)

Trim excess fat from 3 to 4 pound beef round or blade bone pot roast. Heat fat in large skillet till about 2 T. of melted fat has collected; remove trimmings.

Brown meat slowly on all sides. Add 1/4 cup Burgundy, 1/3 cup finely chopped carrot, 1/2 cup chopped onion, 1 clove garlic (minced), 1-1/2 tsp. salt and 1/4 tsp. pepper.

Cover and cook slowly for 2-1/2-3 hours. Meanwhile soak an 11 oz. pkg. (3/4) mixed dried fruits in 1-1/2 cups hot water for 1 hour. Drain and reserve liquid. Place fruit on meat for last 45 minutes of cooking.

Remove meat and fruit. Skim fat from pan juices and add reserved fruit liquid to juices to make 1-1/2 cups. Blend 1/2 cup cold water with 3 T. flour; slowly stir into pan juices. Cook and stir till thick; pass with roast.

The latter are needed for the second-place Giants in the Major League and for the Farm Team Cubs who are in first spot with no losses.

An organization and/or individual may sponsor a Major team for $200 and a Farm Team for $100. Anyone wishing to offer assistance of any kind is asked to phone Little League president George Palmer, 659-2591.

BIBLE LANDS TOUR

Carmel Valley residents, Dr. and Mrs. James Short and Miss Esther Trevino have just returned from a twenty-one day Bible Lands tour.

Dr. Wilbur M. Smith was in charge of the tour sponsored by Gospel Literature in National Tongues. Jetting from Los Angeles to Rome their stay included visits to St. Paul's, the catacombs, the Vatican, the coliseum, and the Pantheon. From Rome the Valleyites and their companions explored Izmir, Istanbul, and Beirut.

From the latter they took a side excursion of Baalbek and Damascus and found themselves driving by motorcoach along the shore of the Mediterranean, inspecting archeological excavations, and over mountains to the great Roman Acropolis, with its temples of Jupiter, Bacchus, Diana and Venus.

In Cairo they lunched in the Stereo Club at the base of the Sphinx, visited the Egyptian Museum and shopped the bazaars. Tel Aviv, Haifa, Nazareth, a motor launch cruise on the Sea of Galilee came next, and then Jerusalem, and a visit to the caves where the Dead Sea Scrolls were found.

Other hallowed spots visited here included the Mount of Olives, Jericho excavations, Bethany and Gethsemane.

Boarding a jet once again with their destination this time Athens, Greece, the travelers followed luncheon by a visit to the Acropolis with its beautiful temples and the Parthenon. On the agenda the following day was a visit to the 12th Century Byzantine Monastery, famous for its mosaics, and a side trip to Corinth.

Their next flight left Athens in late afternoon and landed in London where the following day they could have been found at Buckingham Palace watching the changing of the guard, touring Piccadilly Circus, Trafalgar Square, St. James Palace, Westminster Abbey and viewing the famous Waxworks of Madame Toussaud.

The next morning they were homeward bound with stops in Chicago, San Francisco, and the Valley. Friends are looking forward to hearing in detail more of their exciting adventures and seeing the slides of their wonderful journey.

CELEBRATION

Las Vegas was the setting for a dual celebration for Lt. Col. (USAF) and Mrs. Jack Deas of Barbara Way who were celebrating his safe return from Vietnam as well as Connie and Jack's 18th wedding anniversary.

Accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bottaro of Village Dr., the foursome drove to San Francisco and flew from there to Las Vegas for four days in the sun at the Stardust Hotel. Among the shows enjoyed by the Valleyites was on starring Mitzi Gaynor and the Follies Bergere.

SURPRISE PARTY

Following a short rehearsal of the Community Chapel Choir, members were invited to ad-journal to the parsonage on Village Dr. for coffee with Rev. and Mrs. Don Johnson. There WAS coffee, tea, punch, and a beautiful birthday cake for the very surprised guest of honor, Mrs. Mabel Love.

Planning the tribute to one of the Valley's special residents were Mrs. John Woods, Mrs. Seung Park, and Mrs. Don Johnson. Others attending were Mr. Park, Dr. Dean Campbell, Mrs. James Ziegler and Mrs. George Thayer.

"FUN IN THE SUN"

A "fun in the sun steak fry" has been planned by members of the White Oaks Theatre Guild June 16 at the San Clemente Ranch. The "members only" event, planned by Mrs. Monte Jones, will include swimming and tennis.

SHOWER

Mrs. Hap Thystrup arrived at Mrs. Jack Black's home last Wednesday for an evening of bridge and found in place of a bridge table an enormous stork presiding over a table of lovely gifts for the Baby-to-be.

Helping Rae and co-hostess Mrs. Luther Washington plot the surprise was Mary's husband, Hap.

The guests enjoyed an evening of bingo and were served punch and Paula's famous hors d'oeuvres.

Among those attending were Mrs. Victor Harber, Mrs. Rex Pryer, Mrs. Don Draper and Mrs. Charity Crane. Sending gifts but unable to attend were

New jobs to increase in County

"Monterey County will enjoy good growth in all economic indicators during 1968. About 12,000 persons will be added to the area's population over the year, and the population count will be 270,000 by year end, 1968. In addition, the economic base of this, the newest metropolitan area in the state of California, will generate 3,000 new jobs for an average non-agricultural employment of 66,000 for the year as a whole."

These were some of the highlights of a presentation Monday by Dr. Ray Jallow, noted economist, before a large group of more than 200 Monterey Peninsula business leaders and United California Bank branch managers at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club.

Speaking on "The Economic and Monetary Situation in 1968," Dr. Jallow said that although the nation as a whole and the state of California are faced with formidable economic and monetary problems, the county in 1968 will reach new highs in business activity.

The meeting was sponsored by United California Bank and hosted by W.P. Ramberg, vice president, California Division and Kenneth L. Graham, vice president-regional coordinator, and the seven branch managers on the Monterey Peninsula.

Pet of the Week

"HOW DID I EVER get in this fix? The photographers tried to make me sit in that basket and I was feeling far too frisky... that's how." This 8-week-old long-haired tiger is everything a cat lover looks for. See him and other charmers at the SPCA Shelter, 2099 David Ave., New Monterey, where it's peak-of-the-season for kittens.

Summer reading club at CV Library to "fly" with books

"Flying with Books" has been selected as the theme for the Library Reading Club this summer, according to Mrs. Robert Ray, Carmel Valley Branch Librarian. The Library Reading Club is featured each summer at all branches of the County Library and is planned to encourage and stimulate interest in reading during the summer months.

Mrs. Ray invites any boy or girl (no age limit) to come to the Village Library after school closes where, after reading his first book, he will be given a "Flying with Books Flight Log." In the booklet space is provided for the club member to record the author and title of books he has read. When the book has been reported on to the librarian's satisfaction, then she as the "operations officer" will stamp the official stamp in the space provided. Members of the 1968 Reading Club will be invited to autograph "Snoopy's Doghouse." All boys and girls with models of aircraft who would like to lend them to the library for the summer months are asked to bring them when they come to register so that they may be displayed for the enjoyment of all members. A flight kit will be presented at the close of the vacation project to each child participating by one of the major airlines.

It is hoped that parents will encourage their children to join the reading club which will not only help to occupy the vacation time in a worthwhile manner, but will also help to improve reading skills, while giving each child the experience of reading for pleasure.

Del Monte Center to have art show

Del Monte Center in Monterey is now accepting applications from local artists for a county wide art festival to be held June 14 and 15 at the center.

Open to all artists including students, amateurs and professionals, the event will offer cash prizes for six divisions. Larry Williams, promotion director for the event, said prizes will be offered for best oil, best watercolor, best still life and landscape. In addition, there will be pottery and sculpture categories.

Artists will also be able to offer their works for sale during the two day festival. Applications may be obtained from Williams at Del Monte Center.

MIRACLES are not a proof. For if they are proofs for those who are present, they fail as proofs to those who are absent... The meaning is not that the Manifestations are unable to perform miracles... But for them inner sight, spiritual healing, and eternal life are the... important things.

Prof. Sinclair to go abroad

Prof. James E. Sinclair, 203 Robles del Rio, has returned from a four-day meeting of the Advisory Board to the Naval Air Systems Command, Washington, D.C. He is a professor of material science and chemistry at the Naval Postgraduate School.

The board met to decide the direction $2 million worth of research should take in the fields of explosives, pyrotechnics and propellants during 1970 and 71.

The professor is also one of approximately 10 U.S. scientists invited by the French government to attend a meeting of the National Center for Space Studies to be held at the Cite Universite in Tarbes, France, July 8-12. He will present a paper on the "Characteristics of Igniter Formulations" before an audience of scientists from Russia, England, Belgium, Germany, Italy and France.

LUCKY DAY

"Wednesday is my lucky day forever," is the way Mr. Don Blakeman, Middle School social science instructor feels after the monumental events which occurred last week in his life. It was the day that a baby girl arrived at the Community Hospital for Mr. and Mrs. Blakeman and the same day Mr. Blakeman was elected president of the Teachers Association.

The birth of Bonnie May Blakeman who weighed 8 lbs. 15 oz., was celebrated by eighth grade students who had their teacher called from the room on an "errand" which gave them enough time to hang a huge poster reading "It's a Girl!" and have a box of cigars ready for presentation.

From a large refreshment table the invited classes were served cake, cookies, and the new arrival was toasted with punch.

The Blakemans are parents of two other children, a boy and a girl.

Kiwanis told of Monterey Institute

Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies in the next 10 years will increase to at least 500 students and possibly twice that number or 1,000.

This forecast was made to Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club by Dr. Leon Schoob, dean of the graduate division, at last Tuesday's meeting at Los Laureles Lodge.

The private institution now has a staff of about 400 students and 60 instructors for its summer sessions and about 250 students and 40 instructors during the regular school year, Dr. Schoob said.

Eight foreign languages are taught, plus related political science and cultural courses. Both bachelor's and master's degrees are awarded.

A language student speaks nothing but his special language, both in classroom and in "language houses" where six to eight students majoring in a special language live with an instructor.

Demand is high for graduates, Dr. Schoob said, and they readily enter U.S. Foreign Service or private industry, which is highly conscious of the need for language knowledge abroad.

Middle School Faculty wins

In spite of their advanced age, a heavy-weight faculty team from Carmel Middle School managed to tip the scales of victory, barely, 6 to 4, in a baseball battle Friday against a 7th-8th grade team.

But revenge bloodied another faculty team when heavy-hit-bered their teachers, 8-2.

Losing teachers included Principal Orville Rogers, Miss Chris Cristy, Miss Patricia Archer, Miss Sharon Jones, Clyde Klaumann and Miss Marilyn Ito.

Collecting base hits for the ting 5th-6th grade players clob-victorious 5th-6th graders were Tom and Chuck Snyder, Tim Dills, Joe Gimbel, Kim Cater, Kirk Dormody, Bill Lemos and Bren Sullivan.

The winning faculty club included Herb Reuter, Joe Broadman, William Moritz, Bud Chapple, Ken Wiese and Pat Craig.

Some of the 7th-8th grade players who made hits were Albert Hood, Mike Feeney, Steve Hohler and Stan Sheppard.

JOURNALISM AWARDS

Staff members of the Middle School newspaper, "The Windjammer," were honored at an assembly Tuesday.

Journalism advisors Mrs. Sherina Friedlander and Roland Schut made the following special awards for outstanding work on the paper:

Jenifer Bestor for special reporting, her Bing Crosby interview.

Terri Jaseau for creative writing.

James Kaller for manage-

Where are the Little League parents?

By FRANK CRAIG

June and the halfway point in the CVLL have both arrived causing me to wonder about several things. One: while baseball is America's #1 spectator sport, why don't more parents attend the games? It is fun. It is relaxing. Also a great way to find out what your boy is doing in LL. Your being there may even give the boy the idea he is important — more important than the grease job in the car or that extra hour's sleep.

The CVLL needs your dollar support — but more to the point, the boys need the support, the feeling of belonging that parent attendance will give.

Another way of showing interest is to attend LL meetings where your voice may be heard. The next meeting will be Friday ment and art-layout.

evening, June 7, at 7:30 at the Firehouse on Via Contenta to discuss B-B-Q plans for the Fourth of July. Managers, parents, coaches, plus any interested people are urged to attend.

The mid-season standings are: Red Sox, Giants, Volunteers, Tigers.

Last Saturday's box scores were: Red Sox 7, Tigers 1; Giants 14, Volunteers 1.

On Thursday the Volunteers 4 over the Red Sox 3.

Middle School honors

Albert Hood was honored at an assembly Tuesday at the outstanding 8th grade athlete of Carmel Middle School. He had been elected to the title by other students.

Last year's top athlete was Jim Conlan.

Al Hood also won the award for the most valuable football player.

Taking the most valuable basketball-player award was Tod Gebhart.

Best sportsmanship awards for 8th graders went to Stan Sheppard for football and to Bob Conlan for basketball.

Fifth grade awards were made to:

Most valuable football player — Kim Cater.

Most valuable basketball player — Jeff Vandervort.
